And What Have You

By BOB CRAIG

Hamlin has a great thing going for it in the waste paper drive if we will just take advantage of it. Not only is it a good opportunity to raise money for some worthwhile projects, but it also cuts down on the cost to the city in its garbage collection system.

Since the project was started earlier this spring, the BCD has collected $260 for the paper sold to Celotex Corporation and the project really has not been worked very hard.

This money has been used on the swimming pool and now the money collected will go into a recreation fund. This $260 is money that would have had to be raised by donations if it were not for the paper drive.

Without a great deal of effort it would appear to us that the people of Hamlin could easily raise as much as $100 a month this way if we would just put out more effort.

This surely would beat cake and pie sales, suppers and just plain donations.

If you have paper you would like to turn in for the project, we would urge you to drive behind the BCD office and put it in the trailer parked there for that purpose. This would make it easier for everyone involved.

It looks like the special session of the Texas Legislature will soon come to an end without taking up any issues other than the appropriation bill. Apparently, this means that the bill to create a hospital district in Fisher County will have to wait until next January.

It is hoped that by that time the people of Hamlin will be ready to seek a similar bill for a hospital district here.

With only one issue before the special session it must have been a little embarrassing for our newly elected State Senator Bill Tippen to miss out on casting his vote on this bill.

It seems that he stayed on the senate floor during nearly all of Sen. Mike McKool's 42 hour and 33 minute filibuster and then left for a few minutes and did not get back in time to cast his vote on the appropriation bill.

Guess he will get another chance though when the compromise bill comes back to senate for consideration.

James Roberts, that often quoted publisher of Andrews attended the state convention of the Texas Press Association in Corpus Christi week before last and came up with the following column. We attended the same convention but the only thing we brought back was a cold and an infected big toe.

The most disturbing talk that we heard came not from the convention floor but from two hippies on a fishing pier on a long lazy afternoon at Port Aransas.

The fish were not biting on the outgoing tide and conversation resulted with the nearby couple . . . and it's bothered us ever since.

Years ago, the couple sitting nearby would best be described as "bums" but nowadays the correct terminology is "anti-establishment."

His ragged, unkempt hair sprayed out over a pair of thin, bony, bent and bare shoulders. Sad, distant, and pale blue eyes stared out, oftentimes distantly, over a scraggly beard that most closely matched the color of the sea water foaming below the pier.

The jeans were splotted with stains of different hues, and one trouser leg ended above the knee and the other below. He could have been 26 or 46 years of age.

In appearance, he was well dressed in comparison to the girl. Her hair was such that it simply beggared description. It wasn't hair but a disaster.

Candidates for House Seat To Be Interviewed Friday

The district nominating committee formed to select a replacement for former senator David Ratliff of Stamford as the 61st district representative nominee will meet Friday at the Sweetwater Holiday Inn.

The committee will interview the seven candidates, Jack Willingham of Hamlin, Roy Arledge of Stamford, Bill Longley of Stamford, Jim Wilks of Sweetwater, A. A. (Si) Addington of Abilene, Ed Aiken of Sweetwater, and Elmer Martin of Colorado City.

The committee held its first meeting last Friday in Abilene and named Joe Lassiter of Merkel permanent chairman. The committee took no other action at last week's meeting other than organizing.

Others serving on the nominating committee are the Democratic county chairmen from the four other counties in the district: Moody H. Galbreath of Anson, Jones County; Ocie Hunt of Sweetwater, Nolan County; Max Carriker of Roby, Fisher County; and Tom Rees of Colorado City, Mitchell County.

The interviewing session will start at 7:30 p.m. Friday.

Lassiter said that each applicant for the nomination will be interviewed individually by the committee. He said that the meeting will be open to the public.

He said that the committee might be able to make a decision on the nomination at this meeting.

Friday night, Lassiter said there is no formal application for the nomination, although most of the persons interested have talked extensively with the committeemen and some have turned in letters and brochures describing their qualifications.

Danny Hix to Attend

FB Citizenship Seminar

Danny Hix, son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Hix, will be one of the two Jones County high school students to attend the tenth annual High School Students Citizenship Seminar to be conducted by the Texas Farm Bureau July 18-22. The event will be held on the campus of Baylor University in Waco, according to an announcement made by Richard Colley, president of the County Farm Bureau.

Also representing Jones County will be Brian Harvey of Lueders-Avoca High School.

They will be among some 450 students from all over the state who will be entering the 11th or 12th grades in September and have been carefully screened as to leadership ability and scholastic achievement.

Attendance is not limited to students from Farm Bureau families, but is open to those who reside in towns or cities as well as rural areas. Their attendance is sponsored by the local county Farm Bureau.

Purpose of the seminar, according to Colley, is to convey to the students a better understanding of our American heritage and the capitalistic private enterprise system "that has made ours the greatest of all nations."

They will also be informed about some of the forces, both internal and external, that are eroding our way of life. The ultimate goal, he added, in addition to helping them to be better informed, is to cause them to want to pass on their experiences to others.

Several nationally-known authorities will be discussion leaders at the seminar. They include Dr. Clifton Ganus, president of Harding College, Searcy, Ark., who will speak on "Understanding and preserving our American Heritage," "Moral Foundations of Freedom," and "Pyramid of Freedom."

Cleon Skousen, lecturer, author of "The Naked Communist" and other publications and former FBI agent, of Salt Lake City, Utah, will speak on "History, Strategy, and Tactics of the Communist Party."

Tom Hollingworth, Tulsa Okla., former member of the Green Berets, will discuss "Behind the Scenes in Vietnam."

Drive Nets 3,000 Pounds Waste Paper

Some 3,000 pounds of waste paper was picked up Friday by youngsters working in the summer recreation program.

The group, under the guidance of Pattie Murphree, director of the summer program, went through the residential sections of town and picked up paper that had been placed at curbs and on porches.

Plans were announced last week to have the collection of waste paper as a continuing project to raise money for recreational activities. All residents are urged to participate by collecting all kinds of paper and depositing it at the back of the Board of Community Development office.

Plastic or rags must not be included. Newspapers and magazines should be boxed or tied securely.

While large deposits are ready and the resident does not have a way to get it to the BCD office, a call to 576-3501 will get arrangements made for pickup.

Sell it with a classified ad.

C. F. Cook Expresses His Thanks

(Editor's note: The following is an open letter to the people of Hamlin from C. F. Cook who completed 17 years as superintendent of the Hamlin Public Schools with his retirement this past week.)

I want to thank the good people of this community for the privilege of serving you as your superintendent these many years. It has been more than a privilege for me to have been a part of this community.

Thank you for the courtesy you have shown my family. We have enjoyed every minute of our tenure here.

Especially do I desire to thank my fine and efficient secretary, Mrs. Jane Murphree. She is the best and most loyal person I have ever known.

The principals and teachers of the Hamlin school have been most appreciated by me. They have been very dedicated to the Hamlin schools as well as to our community.

To the trustees I have served under during these many years, my thanks go out to each of them because they have been dedicated men with the best interest of this community. I thank them for their confidence they have shown in me, also the cooperation they have given me. The Hamlin community should be proud of these people because they have given of their time and efforts to serve the young people of Hamlin.

The trustees have employed Mr. Robert Hawes as superintendent of schools. Mr. Hawes is a fine and qualified person. It is very important that everyone in this community give Mr. Hawes their cooperation. I will be most unhappy and disappointed if each and everyone in the Hamlin School District does not give this fine man the kind of help you have given me these many years.

The Hamlin Public Schools is very important to this community because the young people are the best you can find. I want to thank each and everyone of the students in our school, during my tenure, for your courtesy. I love each of you.

C. F. Cook

Layne Blankinship Reenlists In Navy Aboard Vietnamese Navy Flagship

SAIGON — Petty Officer First Class Layne B. Blankinship of Hamlin, one of three American naval advisors aboard the Vietnamese Navy flagship Tran Hung Dao (HQ-1), likes working with his Vietnamese shipmates so well that he's reenlisted in the U. S. Navy.

Blankinship took the oath for another two years while the Tran Hung Dao was in port recently at Vietnamese Navy Fleet Command in Saigon.

While Navy men have "shipped over" in nearly every conceivable place and manner, the event marked the first reenlistment by an American sailor on a Vietnamese ship.

The HQ-1, formerly the radar picket destroyer escort USS Camp (DER-251), was transferred to the Vietnamese Navy and placed in their commission in April 1971.

Fleet Command Senior Advisor, Captain Warren C. Hamm Jr., conducted the ceremony in the ship's wardroom in the presence of HQ-1's commanding officer, Commander Tran Van Triet.

Commenting on the occasion, Commander Triet said, "Petty Officer Blankinship is someone special. He's part of the crew. When I learned of his desire to reenlist onboard my ship, I explained the matter to Rear Admiral Tran Van Chon, Vietnamese Navy Chief of Naval Operations, and permission was granted."

Captain Hamm observed that everyone "turned to" in cooperating to make the reenlistment possible. "I think it's a good indication," he declared, "that Navy men are shipmates, regardless of whose Navy it is."

Blankinship, one of two U. S. Navy sonar technicians in Vietnam, joined the Navy in 1958 and has been serving in Vietnam since February.

"It was an honor for me to reenlist aboard the Tran Hung Dao," he said. "I feel right at home here. I work, eat, sleep and spend quite a bit of time at sea with the Vietnamese crew."

In addition to his duties as sonar advisor, Blankinship works with his Vietnamese counterpart, Chief Petty Officer Lam Thanh Tac, and other crewmembers at anything from jobs in the engine room to adjusting controls in the radio room. When the ship is in port, he and Tac usually pull liberty together and go out shopping or dining with their shipmates.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Thurman C. Blankinship of 53 S. W. Avenue H. Hamlin, Blankinship is married to the former Miss Neva Dell Dixon of Honolulu.

Since emergency water uses were invoked last Wednesday in the City of Hamlin, the town's citizens have been endeavoring to put in effect various economy measures on their water consumption. Major rains in the lake area could alleviate the shortage immediately.

Two business houses in Sylvester, 11 miles southwest of Hamlin, were burglarized and a third broken into Thursday night. About $200 in merchandise was taken from the two businesses, according to Sheriff R. L. Wilkins of Fisher County, who investigated. Combest General Merchandise Store was entered through the back door, after the lock was broken. Dickerson Grocery, under the same roof as the Combest Store, was entered by the door in the partition separating them. Third place broken into was the Parsons Filling Station. The cash register contained several hundred pennies, but nothing was taken.

The ragged T-shirt had gone too long too often without washing, without relief, to be called a shirt. A thin shoulder poked through a tear at the seam, the jeans were even worse than those of her companion. Once-existent curves had been straightened by indifference.

But her eyes would have depressed the president of the Optimist club. Vacant and empty, they appeared not to see at all but simply to stare helplessly into space.

In appearance and in conversation, they were the most depressing two humans we have ever encountered. They are among the lost generation. They were frontrunners in the hippie movement of ten years ago and they made the scene. . . protests, marches, festivals, drugs, communes, panhandling, endless hitchhiking, living from meal to meal, bed to bed, wandering from beach to beach, the whole bit of escape from the establishment, from society, from the human race.

Now in their late twenties, they were bored, too old for the youthful hippie bit, unacceptable either by appearance or training or skill to join the rest of us in the work habit they were nobodies to everyone including themselves. Families had been forgotten years past.

Neither could type, neither had ever developed any special skill or talent. . . and both admitted that neither had ever drawn down a paycheck for a day or week's work done.

They had traveled together for the past 22 months. No, they were not married.

They had an odd sense of yearning to settle down, quit roaming and perhaps seek gainful employment yet both admitted that they had not the slightest idea of what work they might do. And both gave the impression that the idea of work was inherently distasteful.

In the meantime, they thought tomorrow they might drift over toward Myrtle Beach in South Carolina to see if anything was stirring.

It was the most depressing conversation we can ever recall.

That night, for some unexplained reason, we kept tossing and turning and recalling how an uncle of ours used to take unloved, unwanted, unneeded kittens out to the stock tank and drown them.

for a Better Tomorrow

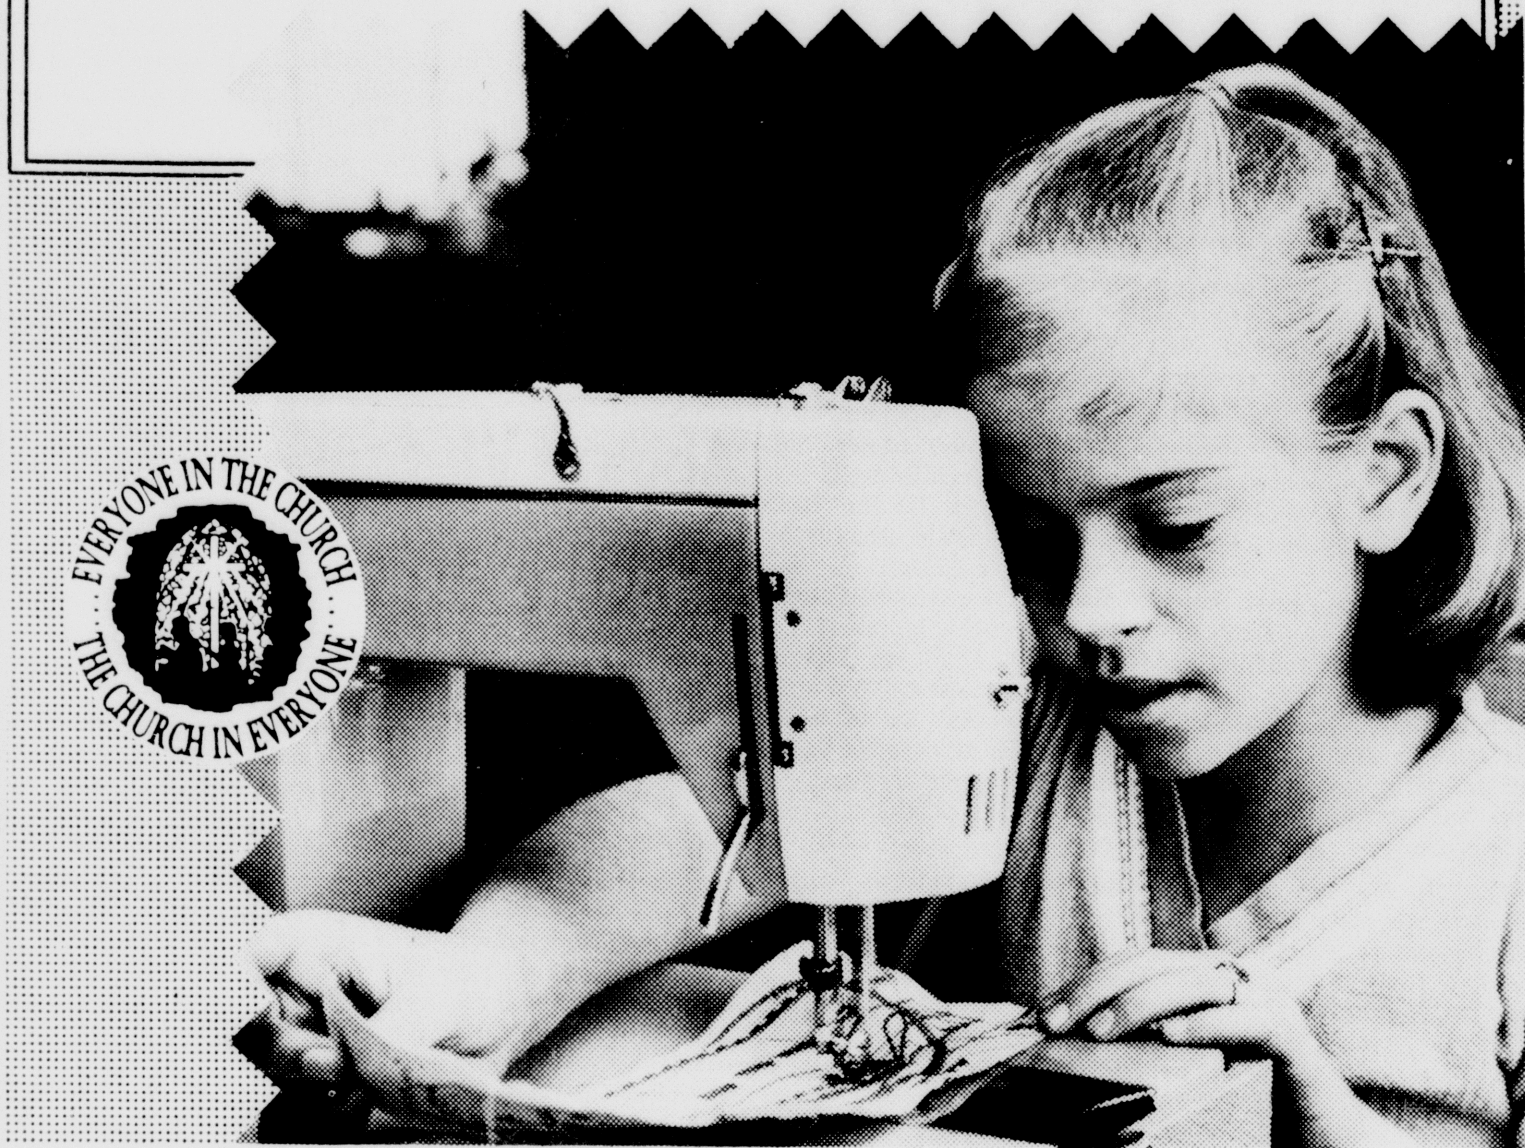

Working, learning to sew . . . Now, something simple is being prepared and soon her own dresses, and in the future, clothing for her own family. Training is important in the lives of our children.

Spiritual training is a must in the lives of our young ones.

"Train up a child in the way he should go; and when he is old, he will not depart from it."

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

H.H. McDonald Marks 30 Years Service July 1

H. H. McDonald, Field Gauger for Shell Pipe Line Corporation's West Texas Division, Eastern District, located at Hamlin, reached a milestone in his career July 1 with the celebration of the completion of 30 years of service.

"Rosie" McDonald joined Shell Pipe Line in 1942 as a laborer at the Barnsley Station in Crane, becoming truck driver in Wink, two months later and pipeliner in Colorado City, in November 1942.

He served as pipeliner also in Henrietta, and McCamey, and returned to Wink as tank farm gauger in 1945. In 1948 McDonald went to Kermit, in that capacity; and in 1961 he transferred to Denver City, serving there as field gauger and station operator A. In 1962 he became station operator B in Archer City. In 1965 he returned to Kermit as automatic station attendant B, progressing there as field gauger and tank farm gauger before being named to his present assignment in Hamlin.

Mr. and Mrs. McDonald reside at 314 Northwest H Avenue in Hamlin.

Visit Calif.

Vicky Anderson, Mrs. Valeta Hartley and Thomas returned Thursday from a trip to Escondido, Calif. On the way out they stopped at Fort Sumner, N. Mex., Grand Canyon, Grand Canyon caverns, toured Hoover Dam, and stopped in Las Vegas, Nev. They visited Mrs. Hartley's stepdaughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Torok and daughters, and attended high school graduation of her step-granddaughter, Debbie Torok. They also visited Mrs. Hartley's stepson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Hartley and children,

Editor's note: The Neinda Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Route One seems a little puzzled this week. It's not the first time.

Dear editor:

As I understand it, because meat prices have soared so high they've now reached the level they were 20 years ago, Washington has lifted import quotas on foreign meat in an effort to get prices down to a level where a housewife can still buy all the beef she wants and have money left over to buy the other necessary grocery items like hand lotion, nylon hose, cigarettes, baby powder, hair spray, cushions for the family speed boat, lawn chairs, etc.

I guess this is a step in the right direction provided Washington will keep walking. For example, the price of cars has soared in the last few years, and this naturally calls for a lifting of tariffs on all foreign made cars.

The price of labor has gone up, so I suppose Washington is planning on lifting all immigration restrictions to let in more foreign labor to help bring that price down.

There are all sorts of television sets, radios, motorcycles, even farm tractors, being manufactured in foreign countries, and letting them too flow in tariff-free will certainly help bring down the cost of living.

Everybody knows the price of gasoline and oil has soared, far past what it was 20 years ago, or even three years ago, so naturally we'll start importing all of that we can get. After all, the way to fight inflation is to fight it all over. Gasoline is and a cousin, Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Wetzel in Carlsbad, Calif.

While there Mrs. Anderson and Mrs. Hartley went to Lancaster Calif., to visit Mr. and Mrs. Milburn Fields and John Henry and went to Disney Land and Sea World in San Diego.

Returning home, they stopped in Odessa and visited Mrs. Hartley's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Doby Johnson.

Neinda Philosopher Asks If Import Doors On All Items Are Going to Be Opened

certainly as essential as hamburger meat.

Come to think of it, the price of Congressmen and Senators has gone up over 400 percent in the past 20 years, and 20 years ago you could get 4 Governors for what one costs today.

Major Steele Completes Army Command Course

FT. LEAVENWORTH, KAN. — Army Major Rowland G. Steele, son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Steele, Route 2, Hamlin, recently completed the regular course at the U. S. Army Command and General Staff College, Ft. Leavenworth, Kan.

General William B. Rosson, commander in chief of the U. S. Army, Pacific, was the graduation speaker for the class of 1,268 U. S. Army, Navy, Marine Corps and Air Force officers and 95 allied officers.

The 10-month course at the Army's Senior Tactical school prepares the students for duty as commanders and as principal general staff officers with the army in the field from division through army group, and at field army support and theater army support commands.

The college's primary objective is to prepare selected officers for duty in the field during wartime. Emphasis is on the art of command. The college also prepares students to perform equally well in such varied duties as operational research and formulation of military doctrine.

Maj. Steele entered the army in May 1961. He holds the distinguished Flying Cross, Four awards of The Bronze Star Medal, eighteen awards of the Air Medal, two awards of the Army Commendation Medal and The Vietnamese Gallantry Cross.

The Major, a 1957 graduate of Hamlin High School, received his B.A. degree in 1961 from Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene.

His wife, Patricia, was with him at the Fort.

so...no, I'm not afraid that'd be going a little too far. No use going overboard.

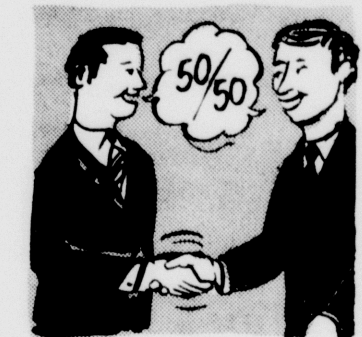

And after all, only 8 percent of the voting population raises cattle, while 100 percent of it buys meat. On the other hand, only one-half of one percent or maybe less makes automobiles. Some things are just too hard to figure out right here at the beginning of hot July.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

"Plain English"

Gerald had the idea and Fred had the money. Over a mid-night cup of coffee, they agreed to start manufacturing a new kind of toy. As for profits, they agreed on what they assumed would be a simple formula: a "fifty-fifty" split.

Things went well. Nevertheless, for personal reasons, they decided after a year to bring the venture to an end.

Dividing the profits should have been merely a matter of arithmetic. But Gerald insisted he was entitled to an extra share as wages, on the ground that he alone had put in regular working hours at the company office.

Fred finally won the argument — but only after a costly trip to court. Two years of bitter litigation was the price the partners had to pay for failing to make clear, right at the start, what they meant by the expression "fifty-fifty."

The case illustrates the danger of assuming that "plain English" is always plain. When money or legal rights are at stake, people have an astonishing capacity for putting different interpretations on what might at first have seemed perfectly clear.

Consider the following words: "fireproof," "cash on hand," "furniture," "unmarried," "immediately," "children." Plain English? But:

Does "fireproof" mean that the article positively can't burn?

Does "cash on hand" include money in the bank?

Does "furniture" include silverware and china?

Does "unmarried" include someone who was married, then divorced?

Does "immediately" allow for a reasonable delay?

Do "children" include step-children?

Each of these questions has led to litigation. Furthermore, in each instance, courts have given both yes and no answers, depending on the particular circumstances.

Even the lowliest prepositions or conjunctions can be tricky. The United States Supreme Court itself has had to rule on the meaning of "and" (11 times), "from" (four times), and "but" (twice).

The lesson should be obvious. Not everyone who speaks English is able to use it with precision. Making any important legal agreement is definitely a job for an expert.

Neinda Philosopher Says Kids Don't Realize Value of TV Commercials

Editor's note: The Neinda Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Route One has some advice for children this week, more or less.

Dear editor:

If a man hasn't got something to protest about these days he's so far out of style he's probably still carrying a pocket watch, wearing high-top shoes and carrying cold patches to fix flats with, so it was only natural that an 11-year-old girl should show up before a Senate committee in Washington protesting Saturday morning commercials on kids' T.V. shows.

According to her, the commercials are so bad, or so good, however you want to put it, that kids immediately rush out and demand that their parents buy the stuff, and parents, naturally not wanting to lose the everlasting love and affection of their children, comply.

Then when the kids, after a few years of eating all that cereal and having attained the mature age of 10 or 11, discover they don't feel any better or turn out more popular or prettier or stronger than kids who've been eating oatmeal all along, they begin to doubt the commercials, then begin doubting the adults who sponsor them.

"They find out that not all adults tell the truth," the young girl told the Senators. "They start disbelieving some things they say, and I feel this is dangerous."

Come on, honey, you're on the right track, not the wrong track. Dangerous? Quite the contrary, it's safe and wise. Of all the things a child needs to learn, and what better place is there to have it down on you than before a bunch of Senators, one of the most important is that you'd better not believe everything everybody says.

You'll find that while most grown-ups today weren't taken in by T.V. commercials when they were youngsters, it was mostly because there weren't any T.V. commercials then to be taken in by, but you'd be surprised how many of them ordered secret devices to throw their voice or rings with a secret compartment, as advertised on cereal boxes and comic books.

In preparing yourself to vote intelligently in a democracy, kids, the first step is to watch those T.V. commercials pretty closely, whether they're for posttoasties or politicians.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Wedding Hints

Planning a wedding? These tips on getting information to the Hamlin Herald office should be followed.

1. Two pictures of the bride will be used only if the engagement is announced six weeks prior to the wedding. A one column picture will be used with the engagement announcement and a two column picture will be used with the wedding.

2. Only black and white prints will be used. A billfold size for the engagement picture is adequate. A 5 x 7 or 8 x 10 is suitable for the wedding picture. Glossy prints are preferred.

3. Wedding information and picture should be turned in before the wedding or on Monday immediately following a wedding that occurs Wednesday through Sunday. Monday and Tuesday evening weddings should be reported no later than Monday. Information that is to be sent to a daily publication should be in the Herald office one week prior to the wedding date.

4. Information and picture received three weeks after the event will not be published. A brief announcement of the wedding will be used after three weeks.

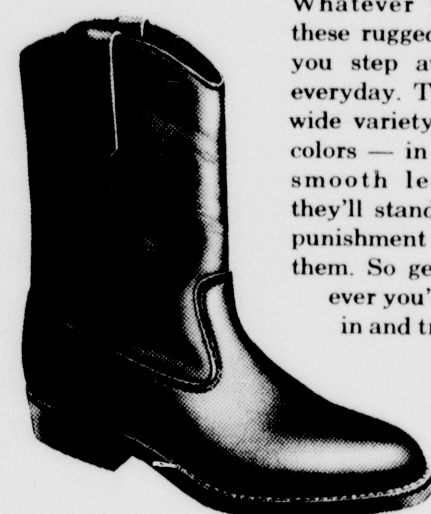

5. Wedding stories and pictures are used when either the bride or groom is a resident or former resident of Hamlin. Grandchildren of residents may choose either to have a picture with cutlines or a wedding story.

Information blanks for engagements, weddings and anniversaries are available at the Herald office.

"You Dirty Crook!"

Baseball umpires and football referees take it in stride. But there are times when the cry "You dirty crook!"—or words to that effect—can amount to slander. How the courts look upon such outbursts tells a great deal about the law of defamation of character.

Take this case: During an argument at a golf course, one player called another "a lousy crook." The latter filed suit for slander, charging that the epithet had branded him as a common criminal.

But the court disagreed. At least in this situation, said the court, the words were no more than generalized bluster.

Oliver Wendell Holmes once expressed the law's attitude as follows:

"A word is not a crystal, transparent and unchanged; it is the skin of a living thought, and may vary greatly in color and content according to the circumstances and the time in which it is used."

Accordingly, another court found it was indeed defamatory for a jeweller to say of a rival jeweller that he was "a crook . . . mixed up in some crooked deals."

This time the comment, made during a business conference, was clearly meant to be taken literally.

Even in a non-business setting, this kind of language may be defamatory. At a club meeting, one of the members denounced the club president as "a cheat and a fraud." In short order, the president filed suit for slander.

In a court hearing he pointed out that the remark had been made not merely as a general insult but as a specific comment on his performance in office. The court decided that, since the office was one of trust and honor, the words were weighty enough to support a suit.

"Those words," said the judge, "cannot but impair confidence in (the president's) ability to hold the office."
